RE: [REDACTED] born June 16, 1971

To Whom It May Concern:

Our office represents [REDACTED] and her minor son [REDACTED]. As you may know, [REDACTED] while he was a scout, was the victim of lewd and lascivious conduct initiated by scout master James Schmidt. I am informed that James Schmidt has been convicted in Canyon County of a lewd and lascivious charge in which [REDACTED] was the victim.

Mrs. [REDACTED] feels that her son has suffered and will suffer psychological trauma resulting from this incident. Mrs. [REDACTED] wishes to provide psychological treatment for her son but cannot afford to do so. Therefore, she would request that the cost of such psychological treatment be made available to her by the Boy Scouts of America.

Mrs. [REDACTED] is not interested in filing a lawsuit against the Boy Scouts at the present time. We have discussed the option of a lawsuit with her. However, she does want psychological treatment for her son and feels the Boy Scouts should pay the cost of such treatment.

Please advise me within fifteen (15) days of the date of this letter whether you will comply with Mrs. [REDACTED] request. If we do not hear from you within fifteen (15) days of the date of this letter, we will assume that you are rejecting Mrs. [REDACTED]'s request, and will advise Mrs. [REDACTED] accordingly.

Very truly yours,

THE IDAHO STATESMAN, Boise, Friday, July 1, 1983

Scout leader sentenced to evaluation

CALDWELL (UPI) — A 38-year-old man who admitted engaging in sex acts with a Caldwell Boy Scout during an outing last summer has been ordered to seek treatment for his sexual attraction to children.

James Phillip Schmidt of Nampa received a suspended sentence and was placed on 10 years probation Wednesday on the condition he receive a personality evaluation at Johns Hopkins University Hospital in Baltimore, Md., officials said.

Caribou County Deputy Prosecutor Lansing Haynes alleged police interviewed 18 Scouts and their parents and documented an undisclosed number of cases in which Schmidt engaged in sex with juveniles, and several others in which he solicited sexual favors.

Several incidents occurred during local Boy Scout outings, and some took place at Schmidt's home, Haynes said.

"The boys who went with him were under the impression that they were on Boy Scout activities," Haynes said.

Boy Scout attorney Gordon Nielson of Boise said Thursday the camping trip that spurred the charges was not sanctioned by regional Boy Scout leadership, but he confirmed that Schmidt had been involved with local Scout activities in Canyon County.

"He loves Scouting, apparently, and he's tried to be involved in Scouting as much as he can," said Nielson, vice president and legal counsel of the Boy Scouts' Oregon Council.

But in the wake of Schmidt's conviction, Nielson said, "he will never hold a Scout post again."

Third District Judge Jim Doolittle said he would retain jurisdiction for 120 days until the psychiatric report is completed to determine whether Schmidt should receive medical treatment of punishment.

The crime carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

Haynes said a competency evaluation by state Health and Welfare officials said Schmidt suffers from "acute pedophilia." The prosecutor said Schmidt would undergo a three-week evaluation at the Maryland hospital to determine if the disorder is treatable.

If doctors believe Schmidt can be rehabilitated, he will be hospitalized for extensive therapy, the prosecutor said. If not, he will be returned to court for possible adjustment of the sentence, he said.

Schmidt was arrested in February by Caldwell police and charged with two counts of lewd and lascivious conduct with a minor. In exchange for his guilty plea to one count, prosecutors dismissed the second charge, Haynes said.

Lewd-conduct charge

CALDWELL — James Phillip Schmidt, 38, was arrested Monday on a felony charge of lewd conduct with a minor child and was being held Tuesday in the Canyon County Jail, Caldwell police reported.

Schmidt, 224 Venice St., Nampa, was arrested at the Idaho State School and Hospital, where he is employed, Caldwell Police Capt. David Rowe said Tuesday. Schmidt's bail was set at $50,000.

Rowe said the charge stemmed from an August 1982 incident involving a Caldwell Cub Scout, then 10 years old.

Bob Reese, field director for the Ore-Idaho Council of Boy Scouts of America, said Schmidt had worked as a Scouting volunteer, but not as a Cub Scout pack leader. Reese said Schmidt worked with adult leaders in a training program and not directly with children.

ISS&H Administrator Dan Fazini said Schmidt had been employed at the facility since 1966 as a therapy technician working with residents.

Dear Dave:

Enclosed are copies of our file on a Jim Schmidt.

Last week Jim Schmidt was arrested and charged with lewd conduct with a boy on a Cub Scout camping trip. The police are stating that he will receive other charges dealing with other boys.

There is considerable adverse publicity locally. I'm getting some pressure stating that I was aware of the situation for more than four years but I did nothing. It seems that parents are coming forth with stories of Jim Schmidt and that they reported to the council. The file shows all that I am aware of.

Refer to May 13, 1981 letter to Paul Ernst in which [REDACTED] had called me. I later called [REDACTED] and he sort of withdrew from the report, and hence my February 18, 1982 reply to Paul Ernst that I couldn't get enough evidence on Jim Schmidt.

I told the Caldwell Police [who made the arrest] that I had given the Nampa Police the letters of 1979.

I gave Channel 7 - TV the enclosed statement concerning policies. My Registrar said she could not find any registration on Schmidt. I told the news media he was not registered. We now find that he did get registered as a multiple registration but never paid his prime registration. In 1982 he was registered as a Scouting Coordinator for Troop 228, Caldwell Methodist Church.

We have a copy of a May 13, 1981 letter to Jim Schmidt suspending his registration. Inasmuch as I could not get further information from [REDACTED] and seeing a copy of my letter of February 18, 1982, there is some question if I actually mailed or delivered the letter. But I believe I did.

Several times I alerted both professional staff and district people that they should not use Jim Schmidt - each time I was assured that Jim was okay, and I was accused of not liking Jim.

District officers changed, and Jim began active again. Last month I observed Jim taking very active roles in commissioner and roundtable meetings. I was inclined to alert the new officers, but without more evidence I decided not to.

The only real information I had was in 1979 - this I reported to the police. The 1981 information from [REDACTED] was hearsay.

I'll try to keep you posted.

STATEMENT BY THE COUNCIL CONCERNING JAMES SCHMIDT

Boy Scouts of America does not authorize any overnight camping by Cub Scouts except as a Fathers and Sons outing and in connection with the annual Webelos Overnight.

James Schmidt is not registered as a Cubmaster in any Cub Pack or as a Scoutmaster in any Troop of the Ore-Ida Council.

All Unit Leaders must be approved by the chartered partner - commonly called the Sponsoring Institution.

It is the policy of the Boy Scouts of America that all persons serving as Commissioners be approved by the local council prior to being commissioned. James Schmidt's name has not been presented to or approved by the Executive Board of the Ore-Ida Council.

As an added protection, "Local Tour Permits" are required for all trips made by Scouting units. The permit is to be completed and signed by the leader, approved by a member of the Unit Committee, and then submitted to the council for approval.

Mr. Vern Dunn

Dear Vern:

Just for a matter of record, about June 14, 1979, I received a call from [REDACTED] complaining that a Jim Schmidt had improperly conducted himself while with her son and other boys at camp and also at the zoo. She also said that Jim Schmidt had threatened the boys and that he would "get" them at camp. She further asked what could be done to prevent Jim Schmidt from being in camp and from being in Scouting. I asked her if she was willing to put the complaint in writing and to testify in court if necessary. She said she would.

I tried to call you, Vern, but you were not in, so I called Ross Taylor, and he said he would talk with you and have you call me. On June 19, 1979, the [REDACTED] boy brought in a written statement and also one from his mother. A few days later I received another statement from [REDACTED]. Copies of these letters are attached.

I was very concerned because Jim Schmidt has frequently shown up at camp for volunteer work. I called you about this same date and probably weekly for advice. However, each time you reported that you had requested help from the National Council and would let me know when you had the information. About July 18, 1979, I asked our Vice President, Bob Ferdinand, to check the Nampa police records for sex perversion and other items that may give us a lead on Jim Schmidt. Because of Bob's position in the city he has access to confidential files, and he would also keep a confidence. The Nampa Police Department did not have a record on Jim Schmidt. They did ask for a copy of the three letters for their files.

I was due to go to Philmont Scout Ranch, and camp was on, and I was afraid that Jim Schmidt might show up at camp and that possibly a problem would result. On July 20, 1979, I tried to call Lynn Austin to see if he could offer advice. He was not in, but his secretary said she would call National and get me help. She did. Her instructions were to confront Jim Schmidt. She said if he was guilty, he would probably back out. If not, ask for his cooperation. Within the hour Jim Schmidt was in my office. I made it plain that I was not accusing him of anything but informed him of the complaint and that we had the letters on file. Jim said he was aware of the camp

DYKES_I_007076

accusations but that they are two years old and that he had taken them to his lawyer and that he thought that it had been cleared up. He claimed that the boys harassed him at the zoo and at other places. He also claimed that he always kept another adult with him when he was with boys so that he would have a witness in his behalf. He also explained there had been other accusations during his life but that he was innocent of all of them. Jim wanted to fight back and take this to court. I explained to him that if he was innocent and that even if he won the court case that the publicity would hurt both him and Scouting.

He agreed to cooperate and stay out of camp and to quit helping other units but wanted to continue working with his "own" unit. I explained that Unit leadership was primarily the responsibility of the chartered partners. I did ask him to talk with his chartered partner head and if he continued to work with his unit to be sure to have other adults present. I also instructed him not to volunteer to provide transportation or take boys camping. I advised him that I would inform the head of the sponsoring institution of the conversation and the agreement we had made.

Jim Schmidt left the office in what appeared to be a very cooperative attitude. I asked Bob Reese to talk with the Sponsor's head; this he did. The sponsor felt that the accusations were unjust but agreed to be alert to the situation.

On July 27 we did receive the information that you sent, and since the action has been taken, the materials are on file. Jim Schmidt did not attend camp, and as far as I know, everything is under control.

Sincerely,

Rex J. Black
Council Executive

One time I was at his cabin and he tried to put his hand down my pants, but of course I didn't let him. Another time right after I got stung by a bunch of yellow jackets, Jim said I had to sleep in the tent with him because he said that [redacted] was stinging me (on sweat night). My friends slept in there with me. He told us that there was a wolfpack out side to scare us so we would get closer to him. All night he tried to put his hand down my pants and I punched him every time. He did it to my friends too. About three weeks ago I saw him at the [redacted] and he tried to take off a [redacted] pants but the [redacted] ran away.

These are some details from experiences at camp 2 years ago with Jim Schmitt

The details on the front of this page are incidents which [REDACTED] told me about when he returned from scout camp 2 years ago.

Also I was at the Zoo several weeks ago when this other [REDACTED] incident occurred. The boys reported it to me immediately.

The summer of 1977, when I was twelve, at Boy Scout camp Tapawing commissioner Jim Schmidt took my troop on High Adventure. My friends [redacted] and [redacted] were talking to Jim Schmidt. He stuck his hands down there pants. [redacted] knocked his hand away and walked away. [redacted] then just walked away. Later we went to sleep. We slept in Jim Schmidt's tent. Jim Schmidt slept between [redacted] and me. [redacted] slept on the other side. Jim Schmidt tried to get his hands down my pants. I knocked his hand away and rolled over. I was scared because of this and because he said there was something out there. He said it was a Wolverine. But I knew there were no Wolverines around that area. He had been trying to scare so we would come into the tent with him. My opinion. When I say we I mean other scouts in my troop. My friend [redacted] then in the spring of 1979. [redacted] saw him in Julia Davis park. [redacted] Jim Schmidt was with the Cub Scouts. He pulled a Cub's pants down. [redacted] saw him. So did [redacted] mother. RE: Jim Schmidt

Dear Paul:

This is to alert you as to action being taken and records concerning Jim Schmidt.

Enclosed is a copy of a letter of September 18, 1979 relating complaints and follow-up at that time.

The evening of May 12, 1981, I received a call from [REDACTED] a member of the LDS Nampa, Idaho, Stake Presidency. He related that about four months earlier that Jim Schmidt was involved in homosexual activities. Jim has some mental and physical problems and has been in the State Hospital quite a while; therefore, no "church court" was held concerning excommunication from the LDS Church, but he was asked to cease Scouting activities in the Ward and Stake.

Jim has become active in the district and in other units even though in our conference of July 20, 1979 he had agreed not to.

Continuing with the telephone call from [REDACTED] on May 12--President [REDACTED] related that he had a call from a mother in one of the "non-LDS" units where Jim Schmidt had become associated. Jim had been making homosexual advances with the youth there.

I have discussed this with our President, Roy Arnold, and feel that I should again meet with Jim and ask him to cease his activities and present him with the enclosed letter. As indicated in the 1979 letter his first reaction will be to fight legally, but I think I can calm him and avoid a public conflict.

Dear Vern:

Just for a matter of record, about June 14, 1979, I received a call from [REDACTED] complaining that a Jim Schmidt had improperly conducted himself while with her son and other boys at camp and also at the zoo. She also said that Jim Schmidt had threatened the boys and that he would "get" them at camp. She further asked what could be done to prevent Jim Schmidt from being in camp and from being in Scouting. I asked her if she was willing to put the complaint in writing and to testify in court if necessary. She said she would.

I tried to call you, Vern, but you were not in, so I called Ross Taylor, and he said he would talk with you and have you call me. On June 19, 1979, the [REDACTED] boy brought in a written statement and also one from his mother. A few days later I received another statement from [REDACTED]. Copies of these letters are attached.

I was very concerned because Jim Schmidt has frequently shown up at camp for volunteer work. I called you about this same date and probably weekly for advice. However, each time you reported that you had requested help from the National Council and would let me know when you had the information. About July 18, 1979, I asked our Vice President, Bob Ferdinand, to check the Nampa police records for sex perversion and other items that may give us a lead on Jim Schmidt. Because of Bob's position in the city he has access to confidential files, and he would also keep a confidence. The Nampa Police Department did not have a record on Jim Schmidt. They did ask for a copy of the three letters for their files.

I was due to go to Philmont Scout Ranch, and camp was on, and I was afraid that Jim Schmidt might show up at camp and that possibly a problem would result. On July 20, 1979, I tried to call Lynn Austin to see if he could offer advice. He was not in, but his secretary said she would call National and get me help. She did. Her instructions were to confront Jim Schmidt. She said if he was guilty, he would probably back out. If not, ask for his cooperation. Within the hour Jim Schmidt was in my office. I made it plain that I was not accusing him of anything but informed him of the complaint and that we had the letters on file. Jim said he was aware of the camp accusations but that they are two years old and that he had taken them to his lawyer and that he thought that it had been cleared up. He claimed that the boys harassed him at the zoo and at other places. He also claimed that he always kept another adult with him when he was with boys so that he would have a witness in his behalf. He also explained there had been other accusations during his life but that he was innocent of all of them. Jim wanted to fight back and take this to court. I explained to him that if he was innocent and that even if he won the court case that the publicity would hurt both him and Scouting.

He agreed to cooperate and stay out of camp and to quit helping other units but wanted to continue working with his "own" unit. I explained that Unit Leadership was primarily the responsibility of the chartered partners. I did ask him to talk with his chartered partner head and if he continued to work with his unit to be sure to have other adults present. I also instructed him not to volunteer to provide transportation or take boys camping. I advised him that I would inform the head of the sponsoring institution of the conversation and the agreement we had made.

Jim Schmidt left the office in what appeared to be a very cooperative attitude. I asked Bob Reese to talk with the Sponsor's head; this he did. The sponsor felt that the accusations were unjust but agreed to be alert to the situation.

On July 27 we did receive the information that you sent, and since the action has been taken, the materials are on file. Jim Schmidt did not attend camp, and as far as I know, everything is under control.

Sincerely,

Rex J. Black

To whom it may concern:

The summer of 1977, when I was twelve at Boy Scout camp Tapawing, commissioner Jim Schmidt took my troop on High Adventure. My friends

[redacted] and [redacted] were talking to Jim Schmidt. He stuck his hands down their pants. [redacted] knocked his hand away and [redacted] away. [redacted] then just walked away. Later we went to sleep. We slept in Jim Schmidt's tent. Jim Schmidt slept between [redacted] and me. [redacted] slept on the other side. Jim Schmidt tried to get his hands down my pants. I knocked his hand away and rolled over. I was scared because of this and because he said there was something out there. He said it was a Wolverine but I knew there were no Wolverines around that Area. He had been trying to scare so we would come into the tent with him in my opinion. When I say we I mean other scouts in my troop. My friend [redacted] then in the spring of 1979. [redacted] saw him in Julia Davis Park. [redacted] Jim Schmidt was with the other scouts. He pulled down [redacted] pants down. [redacted] saw him. So did [redacted] mother. He yelled at [redacted] and said he would be at

One time I was at his cabin and he tried to put his hand down my pants; but of course I didn't let him. Another time right after I got returning by a bunch of yellow jackets. ~~He~~ Jim said I had to sleep in the tent with him because I would that bear would eat me. (On a sweet night). My friends slept in there with me. He told us that there was a wolpene out side to scare us so we would get closer to him. All night he tried to put his hand down my pants and I punched him every time he did it to my friends too. (About three weeks ago I saw him at the -joo and he tried to take off a little pants but he ran away.

These are some details from experience at camp 2 years ago with Jim Schmitt

The details on the front of this page are incidents which [REDACTED] told me about when he returned from scout camp 2 years ago. Also I was at the Zoo several weeks ago when this other [REDACTED] incident occurred & the boys reported it to me immediately.
